1. The Industry

At present, there are 22 glue factories for wood related products in the country and most of the factories are located outside Java island. Production capacity of each factory ranging from 22,000 ton/year - 60,000 ton/year with a total industry capacity of 921,000 ton/year (Source: AIFTA Directory, 1989). The kind of glue commonly produces are urea formaldehyde, phenol formaldehyde and melamine urea formaldehyde.

In the early 1980, Indonesia was still importing glue for its domestic consumption, however in line with the development in the plywood industry, the formaldehyde and thermosetting adhesive industry has been growing as seen in the table below. In 1983, total adhesive production reached 115,813 ton, while import of such product was recorded at 100,000 ton (Source: Indochemical No. 15, October 1988). In 1987, local production picked up to 543,541 ton and sufficient enough to meet the local demand.

Year	Plywood Production ('000 M3)	Adhesive Consumption (ton)
1983	2,943	206,000
1984	3,820	267,400
1985	4,983	348,800
1986	5,200	364,400
1987	6,284	439,900
1988	8,300	581,000
1989	10,500	726,250

Source: Indochemical, No. 48, March 1990.

As plywood industry grows, many big plywood and particle board producers established their own glue plant to lessen their dependency from independent glue producers.

2. Production

The Company's plant was built on a plot of land covering an area of 11,131 M² by the Kapuas river, West Kalimantan and close to many plywood factories in the area. The close vicinity to many plywood producers give the Company an advantage in terms of marketing and transporting the glue to end users using Kapuas river. Aside from the above, water requirement for the production process can be obtained easily from the river. For the buyer, the short distance will lower the transportation cost and keep the glue inventory at a minimum level.

Plant in Pontianak

The Company started its commercial production in 1983 with a capacity of 42,000 ton formaldehyde and 60,000 ton resin. The plant uses advance technology in thermosetting adhesive to produce high quality resin. The machineries were imported from West Germany and the finished products meet the Indonesian Industry Standard (SII) and Deutch Industrie Norm (DIN).

2.1 Supply of Raw Materials

Materials used to produce glue for plywood are methanol, urea, melamine, phenol, caustic soda, formic acid, soda ash, HCl, alum and water. The main material, which methanol, is supplied by Pertamina, while the others are available from local distributors. The Company also imports its phenol and melamine powder requirement which account for around 15% - 20% of the required raw materials.

2.2 Production Process

The production process is divided into two stage:

- a. From methanol to formaldehyde
- b. Glue making process to produce urea formaldehyde, melamine urea formaldehyde and phenol formaldehyde.

Formaldehyde making process

Formaldehyde is made from methanol (CH₃-OH) and Oxygen (O₂) from air and process through silver catalization at 450 - 700 degree Celcius. The catalization process has an exotherm character.

The chemical reaction process can be described as follows:

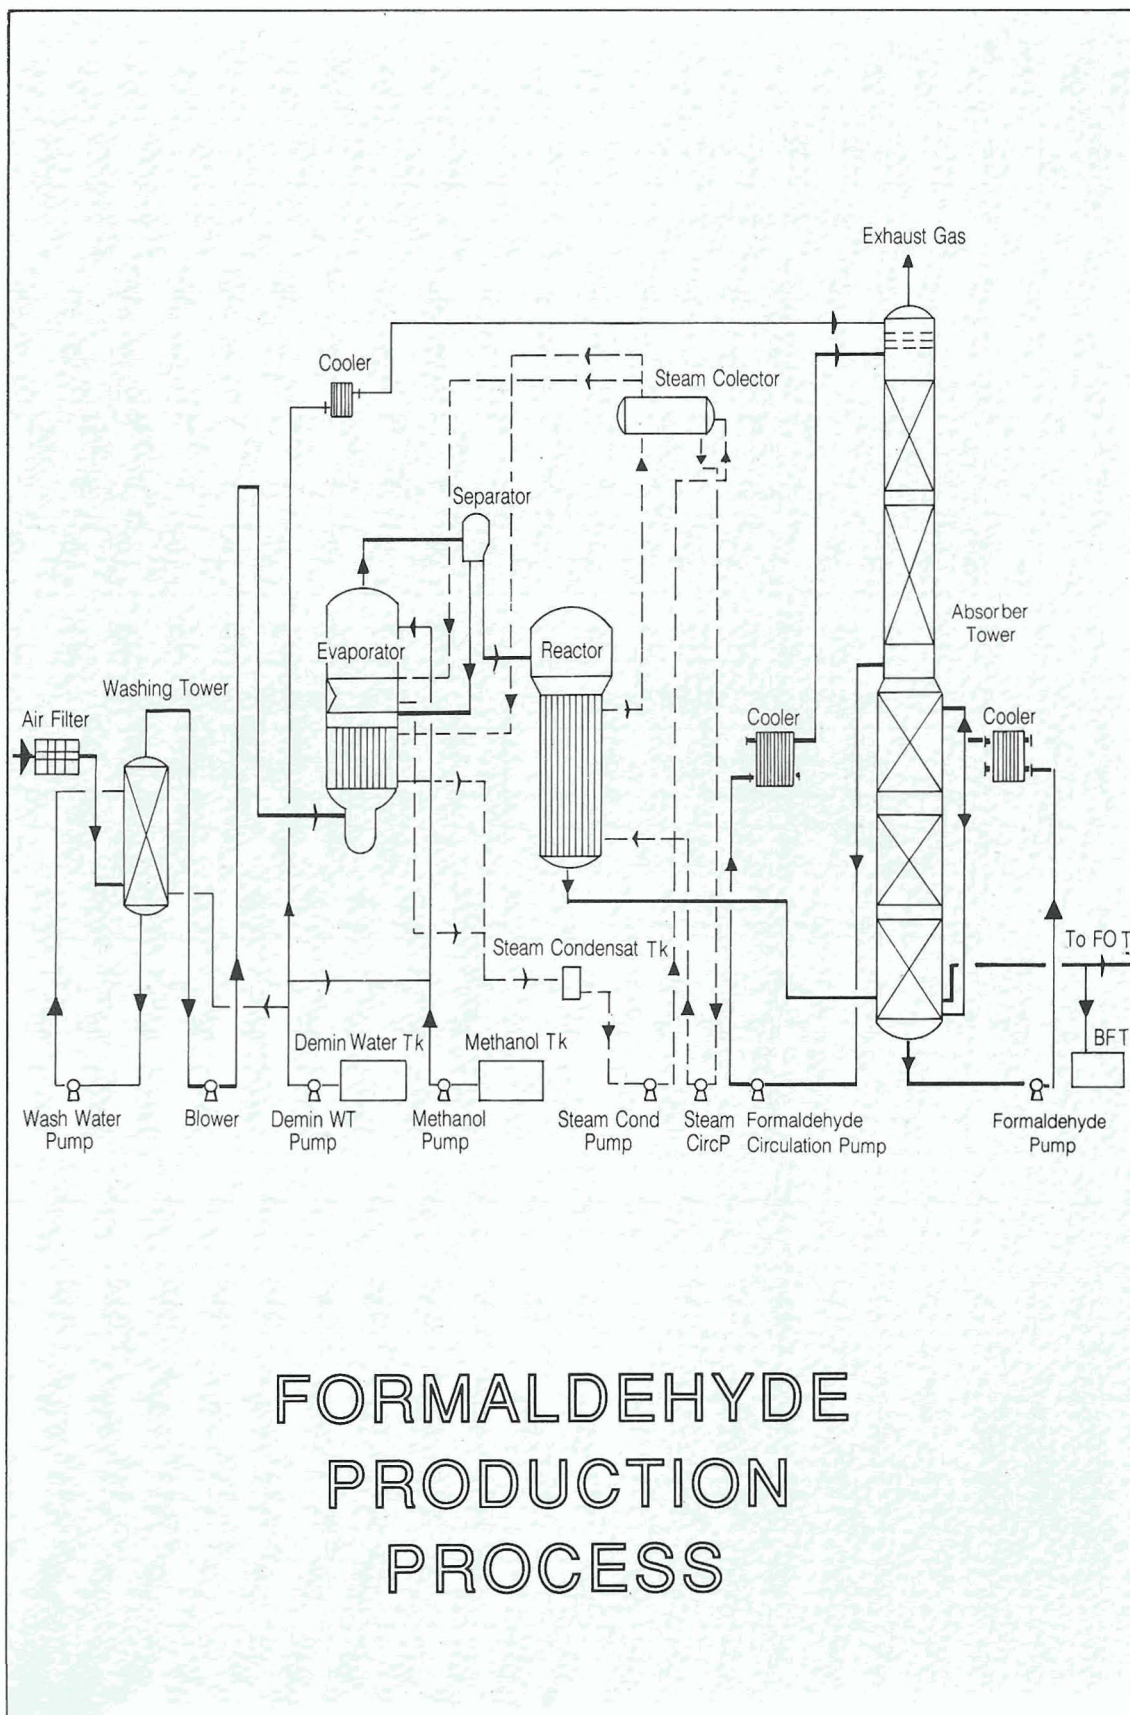

Urea/Melamine/Phenol Formaldehyde process

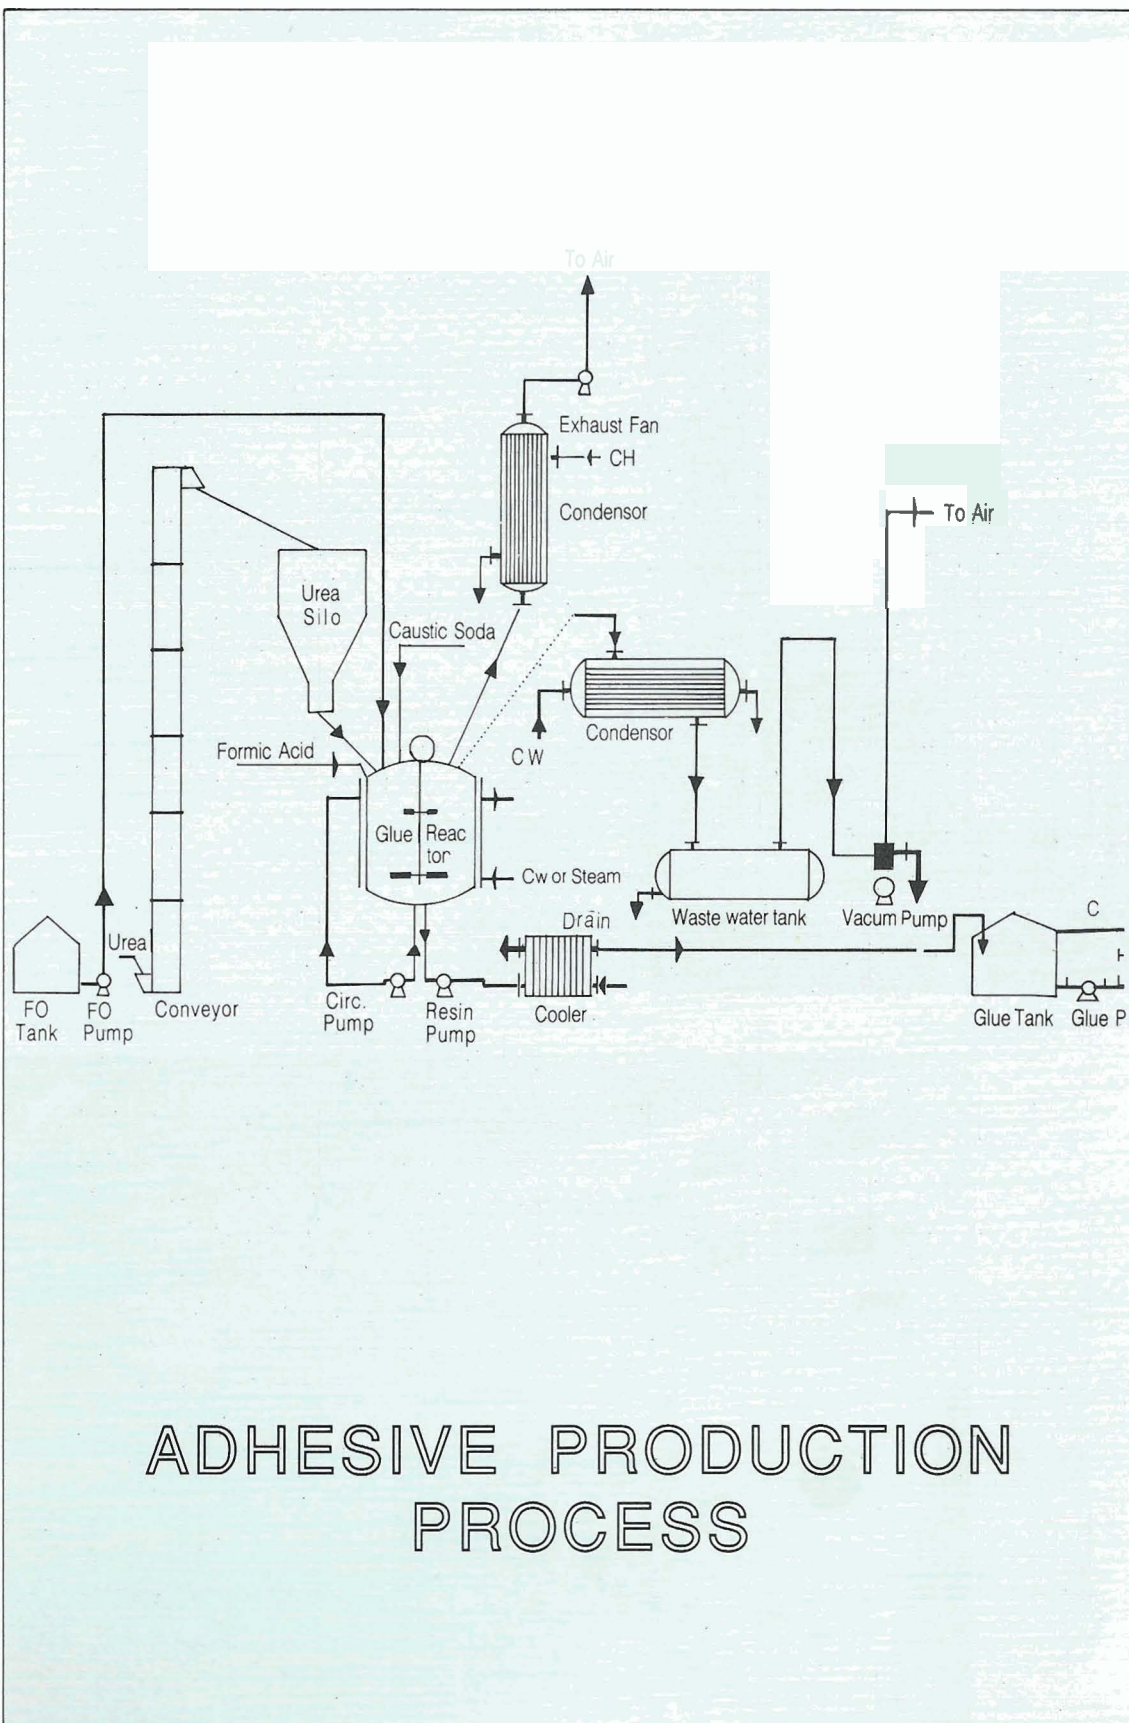

The formaldehyde is mixed with urea/melamine/phenol through an automatic panel using condensation and concentration process, then it produces a urea formaldehyde/ melamine urea formaldehyde/phenol formaldehyde. The unused formaldehyde is stored in the storage tank.

By mixing the above materials, the Company and its subsidiary (P.T. Susel Prima Permai) can produce the following type of glue/products:

2.3 The Company's past Performance

Since the beginning of its operation, the Company has demonstrated a good growth as shown in the graph below:

The continuing raising demand of the products is in line with the development of plywood industry. In the last few years, the plant was operating more efficiently as compared to earlier years. As efficiency goes up, so does the Company's profitability. Net profit was recorded at Rp 682.19 million for 1989 and up significantly to Rp3,340 million in 1990. The consolidated figures after the acquisition of P.T. Susel Prima Permai last August, 1990 and the appointment as sole distributor of Susel gave a net income after tax of Rp 5,312.8 million.

2.4 Quality Control

To maintain a high standard of finished products, the Company maintain a strict quality control procedures to meet with the following standards:

- a. Indonesian Industrial Standard (SII) No. 0276-80
- b. Deutch Industri Norm (DIN) No. 68705, type A-100, FW-67 and IF-20 as the machineries used are from Germany
- c. Others:
 - USA Product Standard PS 1-74 and PS 51-71 interior grade
 - British Standard Specification 1455, type BR, MR dan INT
 - Japanese Plywood Export standard type II and III

The quality examination covers controls on level of viscosity, acidity (PH), density, solid content and formaline content in the products.

2.5 Research and Development

The Company, assisted by its professional advisors in the chemical division, continues its research and development to come up with new products or product diversification from the existing products. The Company is equipped with laboratory facilities to support its product development and for product quality control.

The Company on maintains business relationship with many leading chemical companies in Europe, United States and to learn the latest state of the art in the chemical industry. The Company has just signed a technical assistance agreement with a Swedish company, PERSTORP, in producing concrete admixture.

2.6 Analysis on the effect to the environment

The Company's operation is free from any kind of pollution which could harm the surrounding environment. Though the Company engages in the chemical industry, all chemical materials are processed into formaldehyde without any toxic waste.

The Company's end product is produced by mixing several chemical materials. In the reaction process, there is no waste and the end products are all consumed by other industry. One way of avoiding waste chemical materials is by preventing any leakage in methanol or phenol storage tank. In the event of leakage, the methanol or phenol will evaporate in the air.

3. Marketing Aspect

3.1 Distribution Channel

Plywood is one of the main export commodity of Indonesia and has contributed significantly to Indonesia export earnings. Out of 132 plywood factories, 64 factories are located in Kalimantan and most of them are in West Kalimantan and East Kalimantan.

The marketing and distribution of the Company's products is handled by themselves since 73% of the sales are for use of BRU's plywood, blockboard and particle board factories. Transportation is done through the river for other factories around the factory' site while for intra island, the glue is transported by company owned sea vessels. Direct marketing and distribution has lowered the marketing and distribution expenses of the Company.

3.2 Market Share

The areas of marketing of all glue producers is governed by AIFTA (Asosiasi Industri Formalin dan Thermosetting Adhesive Indonesia). Each producers has its own market region and could not sell its product to other region. This regulation is to avoid fierce competition among glue producers. Since the Company is the first glue producers in Kalimantan, it has already gained market share in Kalimantan, Ambon and Sumatera.

Because of the quality and timeliness of shipment of goods to end users, the Company's product is used by many plywood factories. Some of the regular customer of the the Company outside BRU Group are: P.T. Parindo Permai Indah, P.T. Jati Dharma Indah Plywood, P.T. Andatu Lestari Lampung, P.T. Jati Cahya Cemerlang, P.T. Raja Garuda Mas, P.T. Inka Raya, P.T. Hendratna Plywood and others.

Since 73% of the sales are to BRU Group, the Company is in a more advantage position as it already has a captive market for the product and only 27% of it are for other customers.

The Company's market share in the formaldehyde and thermosetting adhesive industry is presented in the following graph:

3.3 Sales Performance

The development in sales revenue can be noted by the following graph.

To protect the interest of glue producers, the association of glue producers (AIFTA) together with the association of plywood producers (APKINDO) has set a fixed selling price which has to be adhered by all glue producers. The last selling price agreed by AIFTA and APKINDO to be effective by October 1, 1990 is as follows:

4. The Company's Prospect

The bright prospect of the plywood, blockboard and particle board industry in years to come will increase the demand of glue for plywood. This assumption is reflected by the total consumption of glue of 206,000 ton in 1983 and increased to 726,250 ton in 1989 (Source: Indochemical 1989, 1990).

Demand for adhesive itself is assumed to increase by 5% every year as projected by the Directorate General of Chemical Industry, Ministry of Industry in the recent Petrochemical Seminar.

5 years Development and Planning VIII)

Departemen Industri, 30 Oktober 1990

Since 1987, the Company has started to expand and diversify its product by producing new kind of glue: High Solid Content Glue which is used in the melamine ware industry. Melamine table wares are used for household necessity. In 1988, the Company produces a special type of glue used in the making of impregnating paper.

The Company and its subsidiary company - P.T. Susel Prima Permai - are planning to increase the production capacity and introducing new product lines which will give higher value added in 1991, they are:

- Concrete admixture which is used in cement mixing which will increase the quality of cement and save the use of cement. The product will be the first to be produced in South East Asia and P.T. Susel Prima Permai has signed an agreement with a Swedish company, PERSTORP, for the technical expertise. At present, the demand for concrete admixture is supplied from Europe and United States.
- High Pressure Laminates (HPL), also commonly known as formica. Although the Company is not the first producer of HPL in the country, with the technology from Italy, it can produce a more flexible HPL. HPL is commonly used in the furniture and industry construction industry the Bumi Raya Utama Group also owns furniture and kitchen cabinet factories.
- Coating Material (UFC-80) is a material which will allow longer storage time for urea and it will be produced by P.T. Susel Prima Permai. This product will be the first to be produced in Indonesia. It is expected that all major urea producers in the country will be the buyer of UFC-80.

With the above diversification, all of the Company's and its subsidiary products' are not consumed only by the woodbased related industry, but also in the melamine table ware industry, impregnating paper, high pressure laminates, urea coating material and concrete admixture since all these product will use formaldehyde which is the main product of the Company and P.T. Susel Prima Permai.

Market opportunity is also promising considering the number of plywood mill in the country as presented below:

Province	Number of Plywood mills
West Kalimantan	16
East Kalimantan	28
South Kalimantan	14
Central Kalimantan	6
Sumatera	33
Java	20
Maluku	12
Sulawesi	2

Source: AIFTA - Directory 1989

In addition to local consumption, demand for glue from neighbouring countries such as Malaysia is expected to increase as well in line with the development in their woodbased industry. In 1991, Sarawak will have 40 plywood lines and by 1993, it will double to 82 lines (Source: Sarawak Economy Development Corporation (SEDC), 1990).

VI INVESTMENT IN SUBSIDIARY - P.T. SUSEL PRIMA PERMAI

P.T. Susel Prima Permai (Susel) was established on January 28, 1991 by virtue of Deed No. 102 drawn up before Didi Sudjadi, Notary in Jakarta. The Articles of Association have been approved by the Ministry of Justice through its Decision Letter No. C2-460.HT.01.01.TH.83 dated January 20, 1983 to engage in the formaldehyde and thermosetting adhesive industry. The founder of Susel is the Adijanto and Soenaryo Priosoetanto family of Bumi Raya Utama Group. The factory is located in Palembang on a 134,101 M2 plot of land with a building area of 3,329 M2.

Factory at Palembang

On August 18, 1990, P.T. Kurnia Kapuas Utama Glue Industries acquired 100% of P.T. Susel Prima Permai shares at nominal value. In order to increase its production capacity and product diversification, the shareholders of Susel is planning to increase its Authorized Capital from Rp 25,000,000,000.- (twenty five billion Rupiah) to Rp 35,000,000,000.- (thirty five billion Rupiah) in 1991 where part of the paid up capital will come from the proceed of the public offering of P.T. Kurnia Kapuas Utama Glue Industries.

The composition of the Board of Commissioners and the Board of Directors are as follows:

Board of Commissioners

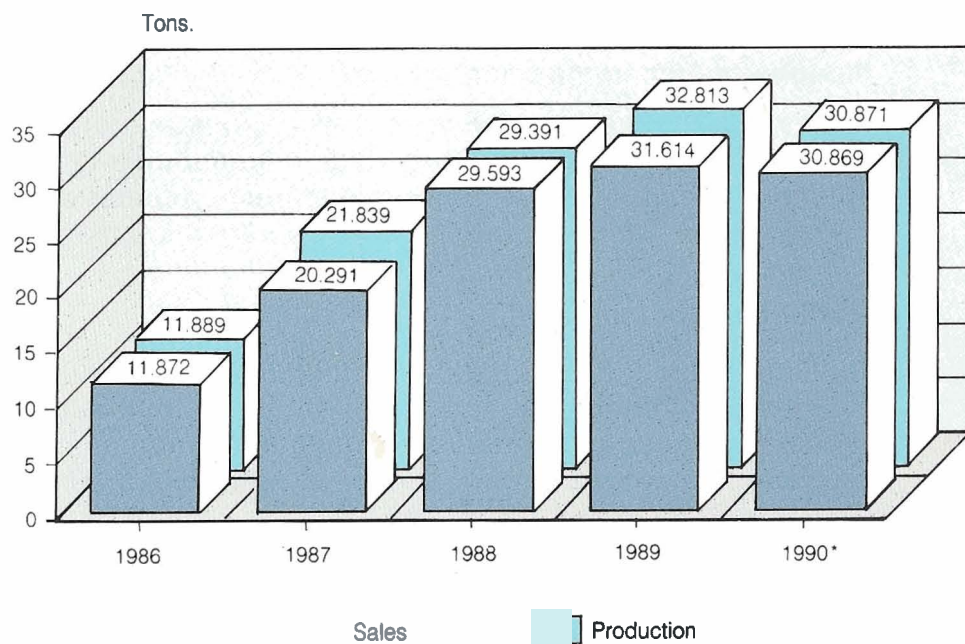

President Commissioner	Adijanto
Commissioner	Mrs. Mimi Purnomo
Commissioner	Satia Priosoetanto

Board of Directors

President Director	Soenaryo Priosoetanto
Director	Swandono Adijanto
Director	Pintarso Adijanto

P.T. Susel Prima Permai produces formaldehyde resin (38,000 ton/year), with a capacity to produce urea formaldehyde (35,000 ton/year) and phenol formaldehyde (14,000 ton/year). Around 70% of the products are sold to plywood mills within Bumi Raya Utama Group while the rest is for other buyers. After the acquisition of Susel, P.T. Kurnia Kapuas Utama Glue Industries is also appointed as sole distributor of Susel.

Like any other business entities, the Company is also facing some risks in running its business and the Company is trying to minimize them as much as possible.

Macro Economic factor

Since the major buyer of formaldehyde resin is the woodbased industry which is export oriented, any slack of demand from other country will affect the production of plywood and eventually will affect the demand of glue from the local market. To minimize the risk arising from the the slowdown in plywood industry, the Company try to diversify its products to other industry such as melamine table ware, impregnating paper and formica, and by strengthening its marketing network and client base so that any unfavourable conditions will not affect the Company badly.

Raw Materials

The main raw material, methanol, is only supplied by Pertamina and if there is a breakdown in the methanol plant, domestic supply will be affected. Any shortage in methanol supply will affect the Company's production schedule which results to a delay in shipment of products to buyers. The delay in shipment will decrease the sales revenue for the period concern.

However, the Company could import its methanol requirement from Saudi Arabia or Malaysia (Sabah Gas) if there is a problem in domestic market. Aside from that, the Company is assisted with professional adviser on procurement of raw material that enable the Company to stock raw material on time at the best price.

Market Competition

The Investment Coordinating Board has issued several licenses to build new thermosetting adhesive plant and gave its approval for some expansion program to several existing companies. With the new plants coming up and the expansion program undergone by other companies, it is predicted that in years to come, there will be a glut in the thermosetting adhesive industry.

P.T. Kurnia Kapuas Utama Glue Industries, on the contrary, has the advantage compared to other glue producers as 73% of its products are consumed by Bumi Raya Utama Group (captive market) while selling price is governed by AIFTA to ensure that each glue producer will not sell its product below the minimum price set by AIFTA.

In addition, the development in the plywood industry in Malaysia is promising. By 1991, Sarawak will have 40 lines of plywood capacity and part of the glue requirements is expected to come from Indonesia, or the Company in particular, as Sarawak does not have its glue factory yet. By 1993, Sarawak will have 82 lines of plywood (Source: Sarawak Economic Development Corporation (SEDC), 1990). Pontianak is the nearest glue producing town from Sarawak.

Reduce in demand of glue for plywood

Uncontrolled deforestation of tropical forest could result to a decline in tropical wood supply. Shortage of tropical wood supply could affect the plywood production which, in turn, affect the demand for glue as well.

Forest concession holders, however, have been cautious in their operation and most of them have their own reforestation program, therefore, supply of tropical wood will not diminish. Aside from that, the Company keeps diversifying its product to lessen its dependency to woodbased industry and directing it more towards chemical industry. It is reflected in the new products to be produced by the Company such as high pressure laminates, concrete admixture and urea coating materials.

VALUATION METHOD

To arrive at this value, we have correlated and integrated values derived from the approaches normally used in appraisal as follows :

For the valuation of land we used the :

Market Data Approach : A method, by which Fair Market Value is attained based on actual transactions, recordings and interviews with relevant persons, officials and land owners pertaining to an object which is approximately similar in condition to the appraised object. Subject to the condition of the Property Market during the period of appraisal, we have taken into consideration supply and demand in the neighbourhood of the subject property and of the scarcity of newly developed areas. Otherwise, we have also taken into consideration other factors such as : location, size, shape, accessibility and the time element.

For the valuation of buildings, other land improvements, machinery and equipment, heavy equipment, vehicles and ships, we used the :

Cost Approach : A method by which the value is derived from an estimate of the Cost Reproduction/Replacement New (CRN), of the subject property in accordance with current market prices for material, labour, manufactured equipment, supervision, contractor's overhead, contractor's profit plus indirect costs, consultant fees, architect fees, freight, insurance, import duty, PPn, installation costs, (if any) without provision, for overtime or bonuses for labour and premiums for material, reduced by an estimated depreciation caused by deterioration and obsolescence. Cost Reproduction/Replacement New is the sum required to pay for or obtain a new replica similar to or equivalent to subject property in terms of material, size, shape, design, function, based on prices valid at the time of the appraisal.

- Physical deterioration:

Wear and tear, decay, dryrot, cracks, encrustation or structural defects; consideration given to age and observed physical conditions;

- Functional obsolescence:

Poor planning, functional inadequacy or over adequacy due to size, style, age or otherwise;

Economic obsolescence:

Caused by change external to the property, such as neighbourhood infiltration of inharmonious people or property uses, legislation and the like;

Extent, character and utility of the property.

We have personally inspected the property on July 5th, 1990 through December 27th, 1990, investigated local market conditions and land use (zoning) from city planning which more or less influences this appraisal.

No. 200491 KKUG SA

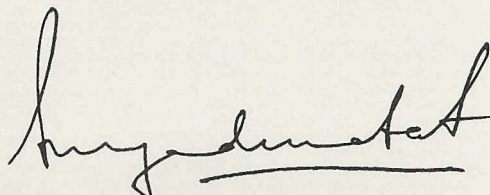

The Board of Directors and Shareholders
PT KURNIA KAPUAS UTAMA GLUE INDUSTRIES

We have examined the balance sheet of PT KURNIA KAPUAS UTAMA GLUE INDUSTRIES as at December 31, 1990 and the related statement of income, of retained earnings and of changes in financial position for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. The financial statements of PT KURNIA KAPUAS UTAMA GLUE INDUSTRIES for the year ended December 31, 1989 were audited by other auditors, whose reissued report No. 007A/K/89/90 dated August 15, 1989 (from the previous report No. 007/K/89/90 dated June 15, 1990) expressed an unqualified opinion.

The previous auditors reissued their report in connection with the Company's plan to offer its shares to the public. As discussed in note 23 to the financial statements, the method of providing depreciation of fixed assets was changed from double declining balance to straight-line method.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of PT KURNIA KAPUAS UTAMA GLUE INDUSTRIES as at December 31, 1990 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in Indonesia applied on a consistent basis, after the restatement of the 1989 financial statements in relation to the accounting change as mentioned in the second paragraph.
